RECRUITER POSITION

In order to build the foundation for a successful sales career, every person in our company starts their career as a Recruiter. While recruiting, you will learn the fundamentals that will prepare you for your promotion into sales. Recruiting is the backbone of our company and you must understand the business before you can sell it. A Recruiter’s main responsibility is finding the right candidates for our clients’ staffing needs. They do so by conducting phone and face-to-face interviews using our internal database, job boards, and networking. The role requires a great deal of teamwork, but also the ability to exercise independent judgement and discretion while working on projects. As a Recruiter you will improve your business acumen while forming a good understanding of technical skillsets and how to work with a sense of urgency. You will work side by side with your Account Manager mentor to learn how to interact with and develop business relationships with clients; all transferable skills that will help prepare you for a promotion into Account Management and long-term success within the company.

ACCOUNT MANAGER POSITION

Account Managers are the face of the organization and leaders within our offices. They are responsible for building relationships with hiring managers at Fortune 1000 firms with the goal of making Insight Global their sole talent solutions provider. Relationships start with networking. Account Managers connect with prospective clients and set up an introductory meeting to learn about hiring needs and present services. They become engrained in the clients business by building relationships through meetings, lunches, and customer events. Their goal is to develop a true understanding of the client’s hiring needs in order to provide the best possible candidates. We believe that the key to creating a lasting business partnership is through a strong relationship built on trust and unparalleled customer service.

TRAINING

We believe it is critical to not only hire amazing people, but to also invest in them through training and development. To that end, Insight Global University was built within our headquarters to provide world-class training to our people. Insight Global puts a heavy emphasis on training, and embodies the idea that training and development never ends. From new hires to senior executives, all employees are trained and developed throughout their career via one-on-one mentorship, classroom training, group discussions, shadowing top leaders, and a learn-by-doing approach. There is nothing more important to our company than the individual development of our people. “The IG Way” is a 10 month program on average, designed to empower Recruiters be proactive in their own development.
Every new Recruiter comes to IGU in their third week for Recruiter Training. An important topic of Recruiter Training is teaching our Recruiters about Grit, which is hard work, passion and perseverance to hit long-term goals. The other main focus of this class is teaching company culture and key recruiting fundamentals to ensure our Recruiters find success early on in their career.
